

Chris Burrows is a serving Police Inspector who is currently the Chair of Greater Manchester Police Federation, a position he has held for the last two years.

Chris worked as a radio/radar technician at RAF Sealand near Chester until he joined GMP in 1982. He has served on a number of divisions and departments in a variety of roles on response, in plain clothes duties, CID and on then on traffic duties for the seven years until he became a full time Federation Official.

He joined the Board of Directors in July 2001 taking up the post of President in January 2003. He was instrumental in the merger between the No1 Police Credit Union with Copperpot Credit Union and led the negotiations which led to the highly successful No1 CopperPot Credit Union as you now know it. He has been President since the merger and represents the credit union at national and local events on a regular basis.

Chris has undertaken the directors training provided by ABCUL and various modules available on weekend courses over the past eight years. He also holds an MA in Advanced Employment Law, LL.B (Hons) and a BA (Hons) in Public Administration.

Highly committed to the credit union and attendance at meetings, with a detailed knowledge of credit union legislation, he takes a very active role in the strategic management. He has volunteered to stand down from his position a year early and seek re election in order to assist with the succession planning for the board of directors.

He is married to Claire, who is a serving GMP officer and has two daughters, a son and granddaughter. His hobbies include cycling, gardening and watching his local football team, Wigan Athletic.
