

After retiring in December 2008 after 30 years service, Howard Casey has now embarked on a new career as Performance & Misconduct Manager with South Wales Police.

Up until his retirement, Howard was a career detective who became the Deputy Secretary and Discipline Lead for the Federation in South Wales in 2001.

He was the Secretary of the National Detective Forum within the Federation for 5 years promulgating issues for the detective ranks within Federation Circles and with ACPO, HMIC and the NPIA.

Howard was a director with Copperpot Credit Union for 3 years before the two credit unions merged and remains a director, with the role of Deputy Secretary and Money Laundering Officer of the now established No1 Copperpot Credit Union.

He found out about the credit union whilst on a Federation training course in 2002 and realised how important and valuable it could be to his colleagues within South Wales. He takes great pride in being instrumental in introducing No1 Copperpot to South Wales Police for the benefit of all the Police Officers and Police Staff and family members.

Howard continues to espouse the benefits of our Credit Union in particular to all the Welsh Forces and believes that we provide a solid and reliable service to our members.

A keen sportsman in his younger days, Howard played first class rugby for South Wales Police & Pontypridd before a back injury cut short his playing career at 25. He then became a qualified level 3 Welsh Rugby Union coach and became the coach of his home town team Merthyr achieving 6 promotions in consecutive seasons.

He is married to Debbie and has three children, a daughter of 25 and 2 sons aged 24 and 21. He is delighted and proud that he and Debbie are soon to be grandparents for the first time. With any spare time that Howard may have amongst his busy home life, he enjoys reading, listening to music and relaxing.
