

Mike Walsh has been involved with this credit union since its inception in 1986, initially serving on the Loan Committee and later as a Supervisor.

On retiring from GMP in 2006 he remained on the Supervisory Committee serving as both Deputy Chair and Deputy Secretary. He is an active member and regularly attends and contributes to training sessions and business planning as a representative of the wider membership.

Over the years he has developed a thorough understanding of credit union legislation and governance and more recently attended the National Development Educators Course at Edinburgh University covering international issues.

He is standing down a year early and seeking re-election for three years to ensure succession planning for the current Supervisory Committee.
